

It is important to remember that proper online etiquette helps to maintain a respectful online educational environment. Please familiarize yourself to these key tips of expectations for your online learning community.

ONLINE CLASS ENVIRONMENTS

If you don't understand something, it is important to ask either your faculty or instructor, classmate or study partner for clarification.

If you have concerns about the course, please contact your faculty or instructor privately, rather than posting your concern to a chat box or a discussion Forum.
